

Warrick Welsh

Warrick is an experienced manager with formal qualifications. He has spent almost his entire career, to date, in the service industry and senior management responsible for operational policy and procedure, marketing and business development. Warrick has been a business owner plus worked for, and consulted to, a number of global brands including the not for profit sector.

Apart from pursuing his career across Australia he has spent time working in various countries such as Tahiti, South Africa, Philippines, parts of Asia and Europe which combined give him a vast pool of life experiences and knowledge to draw from.

He believes strongly in giving back to community and those groups that have been part of his career journey. Warrick was the inaugural Chairman of the Car Rental Association (a division of MTA), a Member of the International Tourism Advisory Committee (Tourism WA), President of Skål International Perth, Founder and Inaugural President of Skål International Albany and is currently, apart from his commitment to AIOF Perth, President of the Beer and Beef Club of Perth.

He is currently General Manager for Disarect, a well known Office Space Planning and Fitout organisation. His responsibilities cover marketing, communications, brand guidance, internal policy and procedure and importantly Business Development.

Warrick has in excess of 25 years experience operating in a competitive, customer focused service industry environment. He believes strongly in team work, the care of others and making the most of opportunity.
